

HOW THE DOLPHIN GOT HIS WINGS

BY: SUBIN PARK (AGED 8)

Once there was a dolphin that really wished to see the world, but whenever he tried, a wave would slap his face. One day the dolphin got so frustrated that he got an idea. He went up again and found a seagull high in the sky.

“Can I have a flying potion please?” he shouted.

“Only if you find me a something” replied the seagull.

“What do you mean ‘a something’!?” yelled the dolphin, but the seagull was gone.

So the dolphin went looking for the something. The dolphin searched and searched till he came across some seaweed. He thought it was just rubbish, until it grew eyes! The seaweed turned into a fish! It swam to the surface and started doing flips. The dolphin was so surprised! He caught it in his mouth and swam to where the seagull flew, holding it up proudly.

“What’s this?” asked the seagull.

“This is a magic fish. When the fish jumps, it flips. When it goes underwater it turns into seaweed,” replied the dolphin. The seagull was happy to exchange. The dolphin took the potion and flew away into the sky.
