

KIKIS BOUNCING ADVENTURE

BY: NATALIE LEUNG (AGED 7)

Once upon a time there was a Tree Sparrow named Kiki. One day, Kiki really wanted to learn to fly, because he wanted to see the cloud kingdom, but no one wanted to teach him. His mum was the best flyer in Bird World, but she had just left for 6 days! Kiki couldn't wait for that long. It was time for Kiki's big bouncing adventure. He bounced out of Bird World and straight through Grinny Fun-Land to a place he had never been before.

He saw humongous and terrible eagles f lying straight above his head, so Kiki jumped faster. One of them swooped down and nearly caught him. Kiki hid in a crystal ball. Inside it looked like a starry day. One of the stars handed Kiki a crystal map to find his Mum. He jumped out of the ball into a tree, and tree-by-tree to the harbour, where his Mum was so happy to see him!

"Mum, please teach me to fly!" said Kiki.

"Of course I will!" she said, and they happily jumped back to Bird World.

